

FOURTH WOMAN ADDS TO MYSTERY

He Accompanied "Dead-Alive" Cruikshank on His Trip to Porto Rico.

The identity of a woman alleged to have accompanied Capt. Barton Cruikshank, the "dead-alive" engineer, there on the liner San Juan, was a mystery to his acquaintances here to-day. The despatches state that the same man sailed with him on the Caracas, which is due here Thursday. He took passage to San Juan under the name Donald Douglas, the name he assumed after his arrival in New York, and was believed to have been born in the St. Lawrence River. He said he is coming back under the name of Murray. Respondents who talked to the man quote her as saying that she can't speak to no one.

DIED AT ENGINEERS' CLUB.

Arthur Stewart, Prominent Attorney, Dies of Acute Indigestion.

Acute indigestion caused the sudden death last night of Arthur Stewart, a prominent attorney, with offices in Baltimore and No. 60 Wall street, this city. He was stricken at the Engineering Club, No. 22 West Fortieth street, where he had been engaged in a meeting of engineers four days, and yesterday asked to have his room put in readiness as he was feeling ill. The next morning he collapsed and did not rally, although concessions until the end. His body was removed to an undertaker, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional services.
